Christmas In Antioch: 50 Years Ago

The years hurry by; people change some, but not basically; the world changes dramatically, but the spirit of Christmas remains constant.

That's what we see when we look at Antioch on Christmas Eve, 1975, and compare our world with the one that was reflected on the now faded and tattered pages of the Antioch News of 50 years ago.

One front page story of the mid-1920's announced:

"There's going to be one grand and glorious Christmas eve for the kiddies this year.

The program calls for a celebration at the high school and the children will be entertained by pupils of the high school, the Boy Scout band, and a program to be arranged by the grade school teachers.

"And best of all. Dear Old Santa himself says he'll be on hand with a generous proportion of candy and popcorn balls for all the young folks - and Mr. Reeves is going to top off the occasion with ice cream for all the kiddies.

NO PAPER NEXT WEEK NEXT ISSUE: JAN. 7

As in past years, the Antioch News will not be published on New Year's Eve.

Our hard-working staff deserves a few days off.

We hope that all of you have a very happy holiday season. They still haven't invented the words that can express the gratitude we have for the subscribers and advertisers who have helped us enjoy a healthy and steady growth. Their support is helping to keep the Antioch News alive, and we like to think this is very important to the community.

The only way we can thank you, at the present, is to rededicate ourselves as we look forward to 1976.

Next year we will make this newspaper even more interesting and informative than it is now. And for our advertisers we will continue to reach more and more readers.

As Shakespeare used to say: "What's past is prologue." In other words: "You ain't seen nothin' yet." Thanks again, and a very Merry Christmas to you all.

Siegmeier Will Head Chamber

Students Buy Food For Needy

The Christmas Food Project, sponsored by the Antioch High School student council, raised more than $200.

The students began promoting it on Dec. 4. Daily announcements were made on the school P.A. system from Dec. 4 to Dec. 9.

The Student Council collected money during the school days of Dec. 9, 10, 11 and 12 from the student body and staff. The total amount of money contributed was $202.

In addition, the Student Council made a contribution of $48 from its treasury. Thus, the total amount of money-contributed for Christmas food baskets came to $250. With this sum of money, the Student Council purchased food items.

from local grocery outlets.

The food was distributed last Friday by Student Council members to needy families in Antioch and to the Lake Villa township supervisor. The food was then distributed to needy families in that area.

Enrollment Reaches 1,642

Antioch Community High School's enrollment, as of Dec. 1, was 1,642 students, according to Ed Kurek, director of guidance and counseling.

In other matters at last Thursday's school board meeting, it was reported that a settlement worked out between States Attorney Jack Hoogasian and Commonwealth Edison will result in Antioch High School having to pay back $2,781 because of overpayment of taxes by Commonwealth Edison. The original amount claimed as an overpayment was $11,011.

The school also okayed the ourchase of four buses.

RUM-PA-PUM-PUM! -- "The Little Drummer Boy," a children's classic, was telecast nationwide again this year, sponsored locally by Northern Illinois Gas Company. It is the story of a boy in Biblical times who, orphaned by bandits, lives only for his animals - a lamb, a camel and a donkey. He gives the Christ Child the only gift he has, his music - the only real gift, a gift of love.

young children and the old children will all march up to the Christmas tree at the corner of Lake and Main street, where they hope to be joined by all other folks around town in singing Christmas carols."

A SMALLER story on that front page announced that Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Emmons, who had been married 65 years, received a velvet rug from the Olson Rug Company of Chicago as "the oldest couple married the greatest number of years." Mr. Emmons was 94 and Mrs. Emmons 87.

Meanwhile, over at the local bowling lanes 50 years ago, Bob Wilton led the "Chili Five" to victory with a 221 game and a 589 series. George Keulman, bowling for the "Whato's," led his team with a 516 series.

The movie house was showing cowboy hero Tom Mix in his "greatest and wildest" adventure, and a Christmas special: Lillian Gish in "The White Sister" ... "acclaimed the best motion picture ever produced." Admission was 50 and 25 cents.

THE ANTIOCH Sales Co. was advertising the new superior Chevrolet Sedan, with silk curtains and baked enamel finish, for $875.

Otto S. Klass clothing store was selling Christmas ties for 50 cents, and Hillebrand & Schultis were advertising "real trains on tracks" at $1.75. Christmas trees, 4 to 8 feet tall, were priced from 45 to 80 cents.

Plans for state highway 59 between Antioch and Fox Lake were being discussed. The story said:

"The new road, when opened, will do much to relieve crowded traffic conditions in this much traveled country."

ANTIOCH WASN'T "waitin' for the RTA" in those days.

The North Shore Line was advertising service to Chicago by motor coach. Leaving Antioch and going via Lake Villa and Waukegan, the trip took just less than three hours.

The people of the mid-1920's couldn't hope that an Illinois lottery would make them rich, but there were other ways.

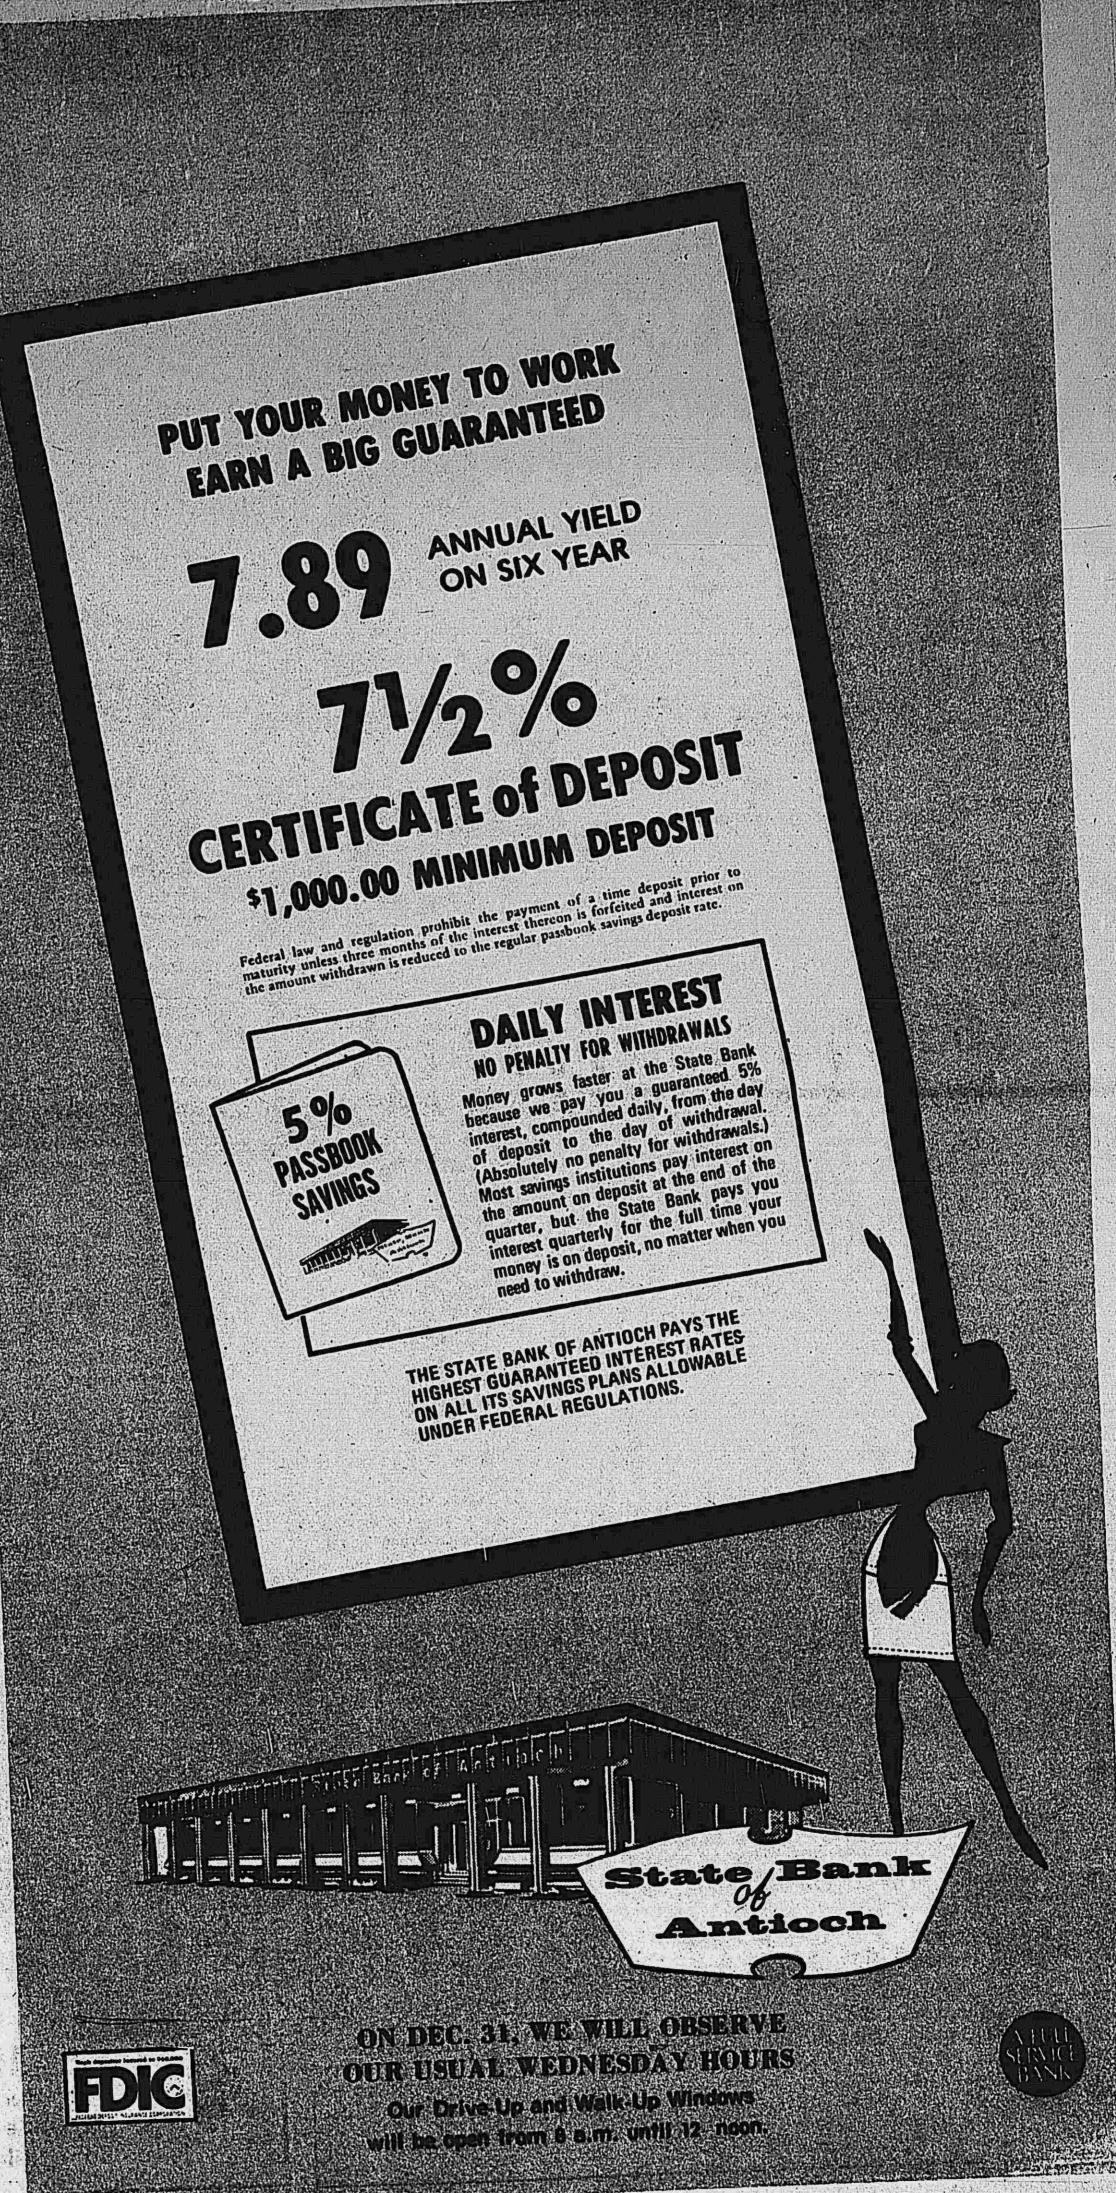

"Almost overnight," a story said, "William McCarthy, owner of a little farm near Lake Villa, found himself a wealthy man. He is to receive one-fourth interest in the $219,000 estate of his brother from Des Moines, Iowa. The Lake Villa man's share will be between $50,000 and $60,000."

And two men from Lake Villa and one from Spring Grove shared a $1,000 reward, $333.33 each, for capturing two men who held up the Spring Grove State Bank.

THERE WERE happy folks, but there was illness too. An epidemic of diptheria and scarlet fever was sweeping over the state.

But hope for health springs eternal. An advertisement for a product called "666" labeled it as "a prescription for colds, grippe, flu, dengue, bilious fever and malaria. It kills germs"

BARRY GOLDWATER

Consumer Protection Is Dangerous Issue

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

Can consumer protection fanatics kill the American people with kindness?

The answer to this question is yes in the opinion of experts on the subject of individual rights.

At issue in the current debate is legislation recently passed in Congress to establish a new consumer protection agency. Supporting it are Ralph Nader and other consumer activists; opposing it are the American business community and lawmakers like retired Sen. Sam Ervin.

IN A RECENT television interview, Ervin described the new consumer bill as "the most dangerous piece of legislation ever presented to Congress."

He charged that the legislation is based on the belief that: (1) all businessmen are out to defraud their customers, and (2) all the American people are mentally inferior and incapable of looking after their own

Ervin, who is regarded as one of the nation's top experts on constitutional rights, added:

"The danger is that this legislation completely ignores the very bedrock on which the private enterprise system is founded and which is necessary if it is to thrive. The proponents of the legislation seem to think that those who are in business should have a sort of czar to supervise their conduct with the most tremendous powers ever granted to any man in the history of the United States. This administrator (of consumer protection) would ride herd on all Americans who are engaged in making goods or rendering services.

"The bad thing about it is that this administrator would be empowered to act - to go into any regulatory agency and to participate in its deliberations and to tell them what they should do. He could go around and throw monkey wrenches in all the machinery of government."

I agree with Ervin that the American business community does not need any more oureaucratic guardianship than it already has.

Please, Park in the Lots

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce office says it has received several complaints regarding on-street parking.

Antioch businessmen benefit from parking spaces being left open in front of their stores. Store employes should use parking lots.

When you park in front of a store or business all day long and keep feeding the meter, think of the money you're costing yourself and your neighbors in the business community.

Christmas Message From The Mayor

ROBERT C. WILTON

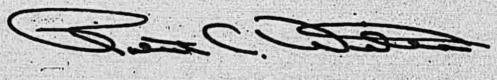

Once again the Holiday Season in Antioch is upon us. The time of the year when families in our community gather to join hands in the true tradition of a Christian life. A time to reflect - to be thankful - to be joyous - to celebrate the birth of Christ.

The Christmas Spirit does exist in every man, woman, and child - regardless of heritage -- inbecause the Christmas Spirit is love for fellow man. But true love for our fellow man must be nourished, encouraged, and recognized.

To give love is to receive love - not only during the Holiday Season but throughout the year remembering that we are here for only a short period of time. A smile - hand shake - a kind word - this is the true spirit of the Holiday Season - this is the happiness we all seek.

We residents of Antioch are truly a fortunate people - we have comfort, convenience and wealth. Let's never forget that the gift of genuine love is the true Christmas Spirit.

On behalf of the members and employees of the Village of Antioch, may I wish you and your family a truly joyous Christmas and a peaceful New Year.

William J. Halliday, Jr., a man who travels not only as Vice President-Corporate Services for selling corporation, but also as a director of the Council of Better Business Bureaus, Inc., offers one solution to suitcase snarls.

"A small kit for personal grooming products serves a double purpose. It keeps the personal items all together for easy access, which is especially important when time is running short, and it protects clothes and other travel gear from possible leakage due to high altitudes or rough handling."

If you don't have a travel kit, packing grooming aids in plastic white pages under "Amway".

You hear stories about lost bags provides protection to other garments, but the individually wrapped items tend to clutter up the suitcase. Keeping a separate case for toiletries is another possible precaution, but adds extra luggage.

For-greatest convenience, a travel kit should contain unbreakable travel-size containers of shampoo, cream rinse, hair Amway, an international direct spray, deodorant, and toothpaste. Men should leave room for shaving gear, while women reserve a spot for cosmetics. Extra plastic bottles come in handy for carrying products not available in the smaller, shatterproof

Last January, Larry Leafblad, radio personality of WKRS-Waukegan, quit smoking on the air and set an example that more than 100 other people followed.

Larry has not smoked since and is having a one-year anniversary show to celebrate.

Starting on Jan. 1, 1976, at 12noon, he will have a month-long "I-Quit Smoking Clinic" on the air in order to help other people kick the habit.

After the first show, there will be five consecutive Friday luncheon programs broadcast from the Country Squire Restaurant, Grayslake.

Leading those pledging to quit smoking will be Grace Mary Stern, Lake County clerk, and Joe Kirby, staff writer for the Waukegan New-Sun.

Larry will also feature people who quit with him last year who will be able to share their experiences.

Police Rescue Bird From Ice

An Antioch police lieutenant and a sheriff's deputy performed a rescue mission on Channel Lake last weekend.

The story came from Clifford Novak, who lives near Linden Lane and Rt. 173.

"I saw a bird about 300 feet out in the lake," Mr. Novak said, "it was flapping its wings, struggling to get free, but apparently its feet were frozen in the ice."

Mr. Novak said he would have tried to rescue the bird, but two years ago on the same thin ice his snowmobile sank about 30 feet, so he was hesitant to go out there again.

After a restless night, he called the Antioch rescue squad and within 10 minutes Lt. Tim Zelinski and Deputy Perry Coleman arrived.

"Without hesitation," Mr. Novak said, "Lt. Zelinski tied a rope under his arms and tied the other end around Deputy Coleman. Then Zelinski crawled across the 300 feet of dangerously thin ice and, with a chopper, freed the bird."

"It was a remarkable feat," Mr. Novak said. "I'm nursing the bird's frozen legs now and it's doing well."

Winter Health Tips

"Winter can be dangerous to your health," warns Dr. Gerald S. Modjeska, medical director of CNA Insurance. But fortunately there are steps one can take to minimize. the chances of winter health problems. Dr. Modjeska offers these Do's and Don'ts:

DO keep up your resistance Fatigue, chills, drafts and wet feet make you more susceptible.

DO make sure the air in your home is properly humidified to avoid all kinds of respiratory illnesses, You will also feel more comfortable.

DO keep your sinuses clear by avoiding heavy nose blowing.

DO hold something over your mouth and nose and breathe through your nose when the temperature is well below freezing.

DO wear warm clothes especially gloves and a hat. More of the heat your body generates can be lost from the top of your head than you realize.

DON'T expect throat lozenges or commercial mouthwashes to fight cold or sorethroat germs.

DON'T vaporize a sick room with medicated mist it just makes the air smell medicated and may clog your vaporizer.

DON'T engage in sudden. unusual exertion during cold weather. Bitterly cold weather alone can bring on a heart attack in the middle aged as well as the elderly.

DON'T wear tight shoes or clothing that restrict the circulation. DON"I use nose drops frequently. DON'T expect extra vitamins to reduce colds.

DON'T expect antihistamines to stop or cure a gold. DON'T keep after your doctor to give you an antibiotic. None are effective against the viruses that cause upper-respiratory infections.

Dr. Modjeska offers one final. DO: "Enjoy the winter season - and you will, if these simple health tips are followed."

the lady who lived by a pepper tree

Frequently we hear people say how callous we all are, especially in America . . . how we are all "too wrapped up in ourselves, too busy with our own problems, to relate to Christmas".

But one November, not too long ago, the daily papers had occasion to record a little event that disputed this cliche, (if you will). Here is how the story went:

A lady of some 75 years or so who lives in a small town in Southern California suffered the loss of her home by fire. We shall call her Mrs. Sanchez.

All alone in the world, the whelmed some lesser person. But not Mrs. Sanchez.

She gathered her few belongings and camped out under a pepper tree on her remote hilltop. She had managed to salvage a beach umbrella, a picnic table and a sleeping bag, largely because they happened to be out on the grounds when the fire erupted. And her pet dogs.

One morning as she was dusting herself off, a phone company truck arrived and the man informed her that the company would like to install a wall phone wherever it would be convenient for her.

"A wall phone! Where else, but on my pepper tree!" And so it was installed.

Even such a big concern as the phone company had been quick to respond to a patron's need, no doubt reported by one of Mrs. Sanchez' neighbors.

People were involved in the plight of this long-time resident in distress, and especially because of her indomitable spirit, her neversay-die attitude.

Weeks went by and Mrs. Sanchez went about clearing her lot, keeping her "quarters" as clean as she could, not only for herself, but for her pets.

Thanks to the moderate Southern California weather Mrs. Sanchez "made do" very well . . . until the late December winds blew in from the sea and the threat of rain hovered darkly over the little homesite.

Then the neighbors pitched in, and on their own, without a by - your - leave from Mrs. Sanchez, they built a small new home for her with their own hands, and their own tools.

By Christmas Day, Mrs. Sanchez had much cause to be thankful. Her Christmas gift was there for all to see; but perhaps the townfolk enjoyed the finest gift of all ... the warmth of love in their neighbor's eyes.

Carol Singing Still A Popular Christmas Custom

Caroling is the custom in many countries thruout the world. And, there are about as many different customs connected with it as there are countries.

Bagpipe music accompanies the carolers in (no, not Scotland) Italy!

In England the carolers receive gifts for their efforts. "Gifts" of refreshments are often the case in America.

"Star-singers" is the name for groups of carolers in many nations. The term is taken from the pole they carry, which has a lighted star on top.

The theme was "White Christmas" and it was a very elegant event enjoyed by Antioch's high school students.

The senior class deserves a pat on the back for staging such a neat event. This is the same group of students who recently gave Antioch High School its best Homecoming "Spirit Day" in recent years.

Christmas Creche Has Tradition

We do not know when the first creche was set up as a tableau to illustrate the nativity, but church records indicate that St. Francis of Assisi received special permission from the Pope to reconstruct the scene in the Bethlehem stable.

Today the crib, surrounded by figurines of the Holy Family, the Three Wise Men, shepherds, angels and farm animals, is to southern Europe and Catholic countries what the brightly decorated Christmas tree is to America.

Yule Legends Span Many Years

Did you know that the first Christmas tree erected in a church in U.S., in 1851 shocked its Cleveland congregation. It was considered too heathenish!

America gave the world its most Beloved Christmas plant—the poinsettia. The plant is a native of tropical America:

☆ Bayberry candles, which are said to foretell good luck for the coming year if they burn bright at Christmas, were first made by early settlers in America. They dipped bayberry branches in wax and burned them during the holidays.

☆ The story is told that over a hundred years ago, a parish priest in Salsburg, Austria, returning late one night from administering last rites to a dying woman, was awed by the particular majesty of the still, sparkled-withstars night; he went home, wrote the lovely, haunting words of "Silent Night, Holy Night." With his organist, Franz Gruber, playing the great music on his guitar, the Father, Joseph Mohr, first introduced the strains of this popular hymn to a small congregation in Austria.

A group of archaeologists discovered the name of Jesus carved before 70. A.D. among inscriptions on 11 early Christian burial urns found in a cave

☆ Kris Kringle is not a German term for Santa

Claus. The name is a modification of "Kristkind," who according to German legend, is the Infant Jesus.

Snowmobile Course at High School

The new law concerning snowmobile operators, in essence, says that no child under the age of 10 may operate a snowmobile.

A child between the ages of 10 and 12 may operate a snowmobile only if accompanied by an adult; and from ages of 12 to 16 years, they may operate a snowmobile if accompanied by an adult or may operate as an individual if they have successfully completed a State Safety Education Course for snowmobiling.

In order to help young people qualify, the Illinois Department of Conservation will offer the 8-hour course at Antioch High School. The course will be given on Dec. 29-30 and Jan. 2 at the high school, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

All three sessions are necessary to complete the course and to become certified as an operator.

There is no cost to the student but an application must be completed and signed by the parents and student in order to enroll. These applications will be available in the administrative office during Christmas vacation.

Tradition Has It That Yule Tree Began in Egypt

The Christmas tree, now almost a universal symbol, probably came to America from Germany, although tradition has it that Christmas trees originated in Egypt. The palm tree is supposed to put forth a branch every month, and a spray of this tree, with 12 shoots on it, was used in Egypt.

German writers mention the tree as early as 1605. The German prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, introduced the Christmas tree in England when he had a tree for his daughter.

Link Sleep To Emotions

Chicago (NFS) — It's often been said that nobody ever dies from lack of sleep. Perhaps so, but prolonged wakefulness can drastically affect a person's mental and emotional state, reports Sally Ames, sleep consultant for the Spring Air Mattress Company, Chicago.

She tells of experiments that have been conducted by psychiatric research clinics seeking to produce schizophrenic symptoms in normal individuals. To accomplish this, they kept groups of paid volunteers awake for up to six consecutive days and nights.

WITHOUT exception, all the subjects did exhibit the desired reactions, seeing such things as smoke coming from an air conditioner and people who weren't there.

"While it may be true that some people can get along on much less sleep than others, everybody needs his own quota of rest for physical as well as mental health," Miss Ames declared.

Antioch Outelasses Warten, 71-49

By MIKE WITT

Warren is supposed to be a serious challenger to Antioch? Yeah.

Warren had a 2-0 first place record and, yeah, Warren was supposed to seriously threaten Antioch.

Well, after Friday night, the Sequoits showed that the two teams are in different classes as Antioch completely smothered Warren 71-49.

WARREN JUMPED out to a quick 4-0 lead, but was quickly headed-off and never led again.

AND LOYAL CUSTOMERS!

With 10 first-quarter points by Mitch Witt. Antioch turned the first quarter around and took a 16-8 lead.

The second quarter was the low-point of Antioch's game as Warren outscored Antioch 16-10, and the Sequoits had only a 26-24 halftime lead.

During the second quarter, Scott Kimball showed his outside game as he popped in some long jumpers to keep the Sequoits ahead.

Antioch's zone definitely was giving Warren trouble as the visitors couldn't get the ball inside and had to depend on outside shooting to score.

WARREN'S GAME is inside. and after seeing this zone for a whole half, the halftime to talk about it, some penetration had to be expected because the team's outside shooting was not going to hold up.

Everyone was expecting a close and exciting second half and it started out like that. After the first two minutes, Warren still trailed by only 38-36.

But Warren still couldn't get_ the ball inside. The Blue Devils' shooting started going cold, and the Sequoits took over at this point.

Warren didn't score again in the third quarter and was out-scored the rest of the game 33-13.

THE HIGHLIGHT of the game was the performance of Mitch' Witt. He scored a career-high of 25 points, pulled 9 rebounds, and dished out 4 assists.

Kimball led the Sequoits in rebounding with 10, and also added 22 points. The Sequoits outrebounded Warren 26-18.

Antioch held the scoring duo from Warren, Nick Haydock and Keith Sorroz, to a combined 14 points.

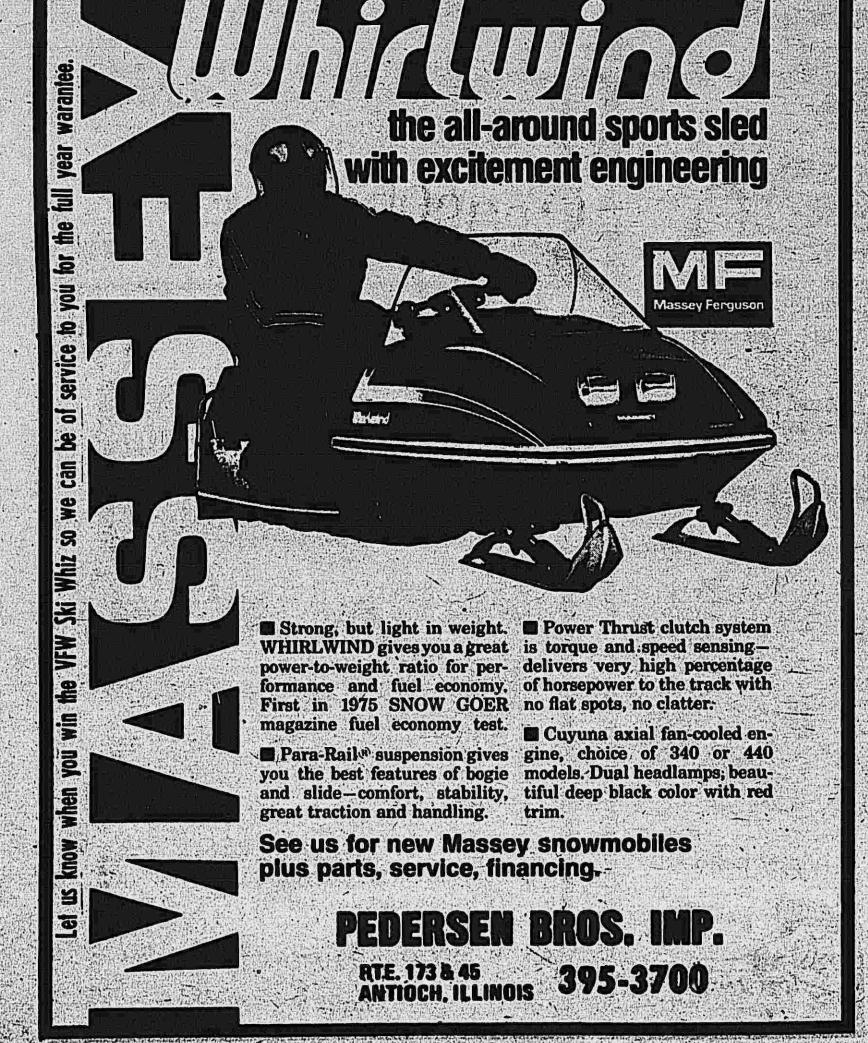

ANTIOCH SHOT 61 percent from the floor. The field-goal shooting was supported again by an amazing performance from the free-throw line. The Sequoits made 15 of 17. Antioch has shown opponents if you want to stop a Sequoit from scoring a basket, it isn't going to work by fouling him.

Even though Antioch won by 22 points, it turned the ball over 23 times. This is an awful lot of turnovers.

The turnovers are really a problem with this team. This problem has been offset by strong showings in other areas.

Antioch can shoot, score, rebound and play defense with any team in this county, and maybe the whole area. If they can add a good floor game to the rest, the Sequoits will be one tough team to beat by anyone.

Rockford Tournament Next for Sequoits

Antioch's Sequoits, 3-0 in the conference and 5-2 for the season, travel to Rockford Saturday to begin play in the rugged 16-team Rockford Classic tournament.

The Sequoits' first foe will be Chicago Fenger, at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

If Antioch beats Fenger, it will return on Monday at 3:30 p.m. to play the winner of a first-round game between Rockford Guilford and Geneva.

If Fenger beats Antioch, the Sequoits will go into the consolation bracket at 9 a.m. Monday against the loser of the Guilford-Geneva game.

The four-day tournament winds up with the finals on Tuesday night of next week.

IT IS loaded with tough teams four from Rockford and three from Chicago, plus 11 others.

Included are two teams that were among the state's "Elite Eight" last year - East St. Louis and Rockford Auburn.

Antioch is fresh from a 71-49 conference win over Warren's Blue Devils. It was in that game, last Friday night, that the Sequoits finally looked as if they might be the class of the Northwest Suburban Conference again.

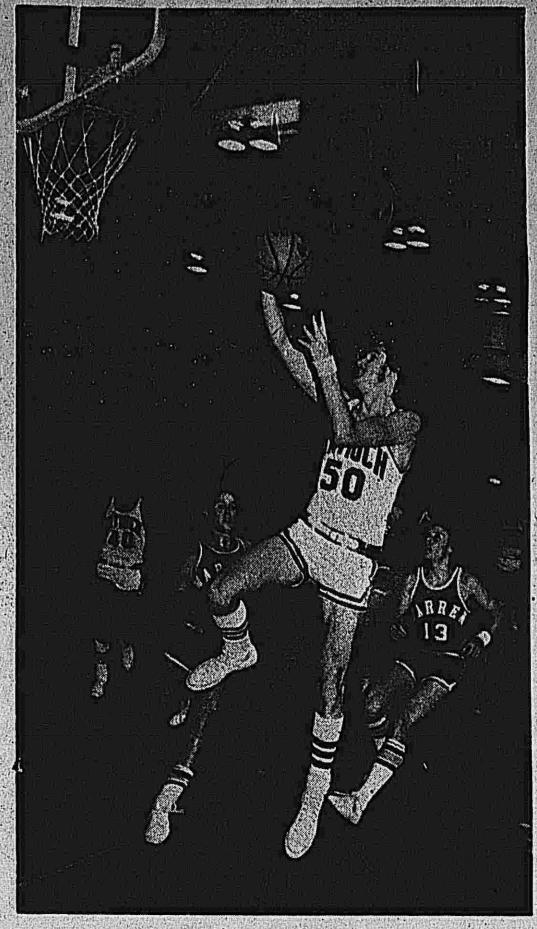

Previously, Antioch had squeaked by with close victories in its conference games against Grant and Grayslake.

AGAINST WARREN, Mitch Witt hit 25 points and Coach Roger Andrews called it "the best game of Mitch's career. I hope it's an indication of what we can expect from him the rest of the season."

Andrews also praised Scott Kimball for another fine game. The Sequoits' high scorer for the season, Kimball finished with 22 points.

Talk about deadly accuracy: Witt made 10 of his 13 field goal attempts and Kimball made 9 of 13. Between them they made 9 out of 9 free throws.

After the Rockford Classic. the Sequoits will get ready for a Jan. 2 game at Mundelein. Then, they play at Woodstock Jan. 9 before hosting Libertyville in the next home game on Saturday, Jan. 10.

EVERYTHING'S "GEORGE" as Antioch's George Ferguson cages a basket in last Friday's surprisingly-easy victory over Warren, 71-49. Ferguson has been a consistently fine performer for the Sequoits this season and will play a key role again this weekend in the Rockford Invitational tournament.

CHANNEL LAKE CHATTER

By LOUISE GUTOWSKI

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their cards, flowers, phone calls and visits while I was in the hospital and recuperating at home. Thank you all very much, you will never know how greatly appreciated it was.

The John Runyard family had a very successful hunting trip to Wyoming last month. All brought home their catch and the freezers are full.

Two more freezers full of venison are Joe Gutowski's and Wayne Bobo's after a hunting trip to Carroll County in Illinois.

Jeff Gutowski was on the hunting trip, also, but was not the lucky hunter this year. But he is saying, "Maybe next time."

Tom and Dorothy Chase, the Lagerwalls and Irene Allrid recently went to McCormick Place in Chicago to see the Roy Clark show. The group said the show was fabulous.

TINA WALL celebrated her 8th birthday on Dec. 10 with a party for many of her 2nd grade classmates. Kathy Doty blew out 10 candles on her birthday cake on Dec. 12. Belated birthday greetings go to Walt Soderman, Dick Harland and Lorraine Lemke and also to little Betsy Zeien.

The Bob Hawkins family of Shannon Ave. now numbers five with the arrival of little Robert Scott on Nov. 22. The little bundle in blue weighed 8 lbs. 4 oz. and is the pure delight of his two sisters. His sister Tracy, who is a kindergarten student at Channel Lake school has invited everyone at school to come and see her new baby brother.

congratulations to former residents Jim and Shelby Wais who are popping their buttons over the arrival of little 8 lb. 2 oz. John Scott. He was born on Nov. 30th and has a big brother, Jimmy, who really likes caring for him. His sister Wendy loves him a lot but was hoping for a little sister.

I would like to say "hi" to Bill Harland. He hasn't done much lately but wanted his name in the column anyway.

The Lake Region Home-makers held their Christmas Party at Tarney's in Mundelein Dec. 10. Attending from this area were Martha Fallon, Lorraine Lemke and Louise Gutowski. A great time was had by all.

BOY SCOUT Troop 91 held its annual Christmas Potluck supper two weeks ago at the Methodist Church in Antioch. Ron Gossman received two merit badges and now has only his service project to complete to earn the rank of Eagle Scout.

Attending the supper from this area were the Whittons, Harlands, Gossmans, Gutowskis, Milhouses and Stevensons. The evening was topped off by a visit from Santa Claus who gave all the children and adults a small red stocking with a candy cane in it.

A large gathering of family and friends enjoyed the Channel Lake School children's Christmas program last Thursday evening. Santa put in another appearance, (boy, hasn't he been busy lately?) and passed out candy canes to all the youngsters. Refreshments were served afterwards to end the delightful evening.

Adding Flair To Leftovers

No matter how much forethought goes into meal planning, usually there are more leftovers than we know what to do with - and frequently at this time of year, the left-overs are turkey and ham. It doesn't take much imagination to have steak or prime ribs every night. All it takes is money. Some creative cookery is needed to make another delicious meal from leftovers that, in more affluent days, we may have thrown away.

Turkey and ham are the main ingredients of so many dishes, Tips from The Home Service Center of Scott Paper Company help show that leftover recipes can be pleasurable instead of gloomy.

Sliced cold turkey, of course, makes a delicious club sandwich — one that would cost you a pretty penny in a fancy restaurant.

Turkey salad - chopped cold turkey mixed with celery, onions and mayonnaise makes a delicious main-course meal. You can go one step further and make an aspic from the salad. The turkey and ham combination, again served cold, makes a wholesome spread for canapes, bridge luncheons or lunchtime sand-

Chopped turkey, cooked in a cream sauce and served on toast points, becomes Turkey a la King. And a kingly dish it is! Or, serve creamed turkey in a ring of rice, noodles or grits or fill baked biscuits with the mix. The same dishes are just as good with ham and turkey mixed together.

And there's nothing boring about leftover vegetables either. Pan-fry mashed potatoes that you've formed into cakes: they go with almost anything. Leftover corn makes of the Bicentennial.

a great pudding. Mash leftover lima beans with some milk and a little onion for a warming bisque. Leftover beets whipped in the blender with some sour cream and lemon juice makes a lovely borscht.

It's much easier to make new dishes with leftover vegetables of any kind if you have a blender. Even the older cookbooks will have some blender recipes and some recent cookbooks — your library will have them, undoubtedly—are devoted solely to the preparation of blender dishes.

A collection of casserole recipes comes in handy. They can be the main dish of informal parties, especially if you take time to set an attractive table. Plan a color theme using attractive Scott placemats and pretty Viva napkins: Create a simple centerpiece — a few dried flowers or branches, fresh fruit, some pine cones and colorful candles placed on either side. You'll be known as an accomplished hostess, one who entertains not-only with grace and ease but economically.

A good thought about leftovers is the one Ben Franklin put in the mouth of Poor Richard: Waste not, want not. That's certainly appropriate, too, now that we're in the eve
